

Cloud-based Interpretation The KUDO Solution

For those who can't make the meeting, Conference Rental has you covered. The powerful cloud-based interpretation platform by KUDO allows participants to view, listen and participate in meetings in real time anywhere in the world, in any language. Live video and multilingual audio stream from the meeting, allowing users to select which language they want to listen to from their PC or smartphone. Additionally, the platform offers document sharing, live polling and Q&A. This combination of features allows all meeting attendees to feel as if they were right there in the meeting room. Conference Rental is a certified KUDO partner.
